Omada Program: Frequently Asked Questions

- 1. Who is eligible for Omada? Omada is available to Sentara Health Plans members at risk for type 2 diabetes or heart disease. Risk factors include high LDL/low HDL, high triglycerides, hypertension, obesity, or a prediabetes diagnosis. Program acceptance is based on clinical criteria and the eligible member's readiness for change—assessed during the risk screener at omadahealth.com/sentara.
- 2. How can I join Omada? Join Omada in three easy steps. (1) Visit omadahealth.com/sentara and select "Am I Eligible?" to complete a brief, 1-minute risk screener. (2) If at risk, you can submit an application immediately after the risk screener. (3) Once your application is accepted, you'll create a password and answer some health questions to set up your Omada account. The Omada team will match you into a peer group, pair you with a health coach, and ship you a special Welcome Kit before your group kicks off!
- 3. What will I do on the first day of the program? The first official day of Omada is the Sunday when your group kicks off. The full Omada website will become available to you on this day. You can begin your daily and weekly program tasks, including weighing in, tracking food, and completing lessons. On your Home page, you will see information about your group members and your health coach. On your Progress page, you will confirm your first weight readings, see your weight chart, and add a motivational phrase and/or photo if desired.
- 4. How do I communicate with my health coach? Health coaches are available via the in-app group board and private messaging. Your health coach is present to guide and support you throughout the program, so how you communicate depends on your own needs and preferences.

- 5. What will group interaction be like? You will be matched with a group of approximately 24 people who are experiencing the Omada journey together.* Your group mainly interacts through a simple conversation board. You can post new topics, like your thoughts, a question, or an update about yourself, or you can reply to another group member with a comment. Your health coach uses the conversation board, too.

Omada evaluates requests for reassignments of coaches peer groups on a case-by-case basis during the first 16 weeks of a participant's program only. Please contact askomada@omadahealth.com for more information.*

- 6. What will I eat? The Omada program does not prescribe a meal plan or tell you what you can and cannot eat. We do not encourage a crash-diet mindset. You will not be asked to count calories during the program. Awareness of what you eat is more important to long-term health. Omada will work with you through lessons, food tracking, and the guidance of your health coach to learn how to make the healthiest possible choices for yourself independently and sustainably.
- 7. What are the lessons like? Each week, a new lesson unlocks in one of four phases: Changing Food Habits, Increasing Activity Levels, Preparing for Challenges, and Reinforcing Healthy Choices. The lessons focus on whole life changes, including stress management, time management, and problem-solving skills. Complete lessons by reading the content for the week, and answering reflection questions.
- 8. How long is the program? Your program involvement is automatically scheduled to end after 24 months. Before your program ends, you will receive an email from Omada to determine if you desire to continue participating. If you would like to remain in the program and continue to have access to the coach, app and lessons, you may. If not, you do not have to take any action and your program will automatically end. The scale is yours to keep and use as you continue your healthy journey. You may also opt out of the program at any time, for any reason by sending an email to askomada@omadahealth.com.
